Foreword

What is a line? Is it a string or a wire? Is it a ruled pencil mark?

A line is anything you want it to be. It is an idea, able to be molded into unseen depths and brilliant heights. It is a concept, ready for you to build into magnificent reality or to shameful untruthfulness.

A line can be the world in which we live; and it can be life itself.

But a line has its separate meaning to each individual. Narrowing it down even further, a line possesses a different definition to every student of Mesa High.

To the sophomores, a line might be the path leading to two years from now, when they will be the leaders of the school. To them a line may be indefinite, always turned towards higher hopes and growing adulthood.

Juniors may visualize a line as the endless encouragement and assistance they have experienced, pushing them onward to their third and final year in high school. It may be the dream of superiority that has finally come true.

Seniors may have many viewpoints of a line. To them it can be memories of the activities they have lived together as a class: it can be the accomplishments and honors they have achieved.

To seniors, a line may be the long, marching assembly they compose on commencement night, dressed in cap and gown. It may be the feeling that, after they accept their cherished diplomas, they will soon separate.

Maybe lines to them are the highways to self-responsibility or hopes for success.

What is a line to you? A line is what you make it; and this SUPERSTITION will bring to you—in pictures and stories—some of the most important lines Mesa High's Associated students and faculty have built this past year, and will long remember . . .

FRANK C. JULEFF

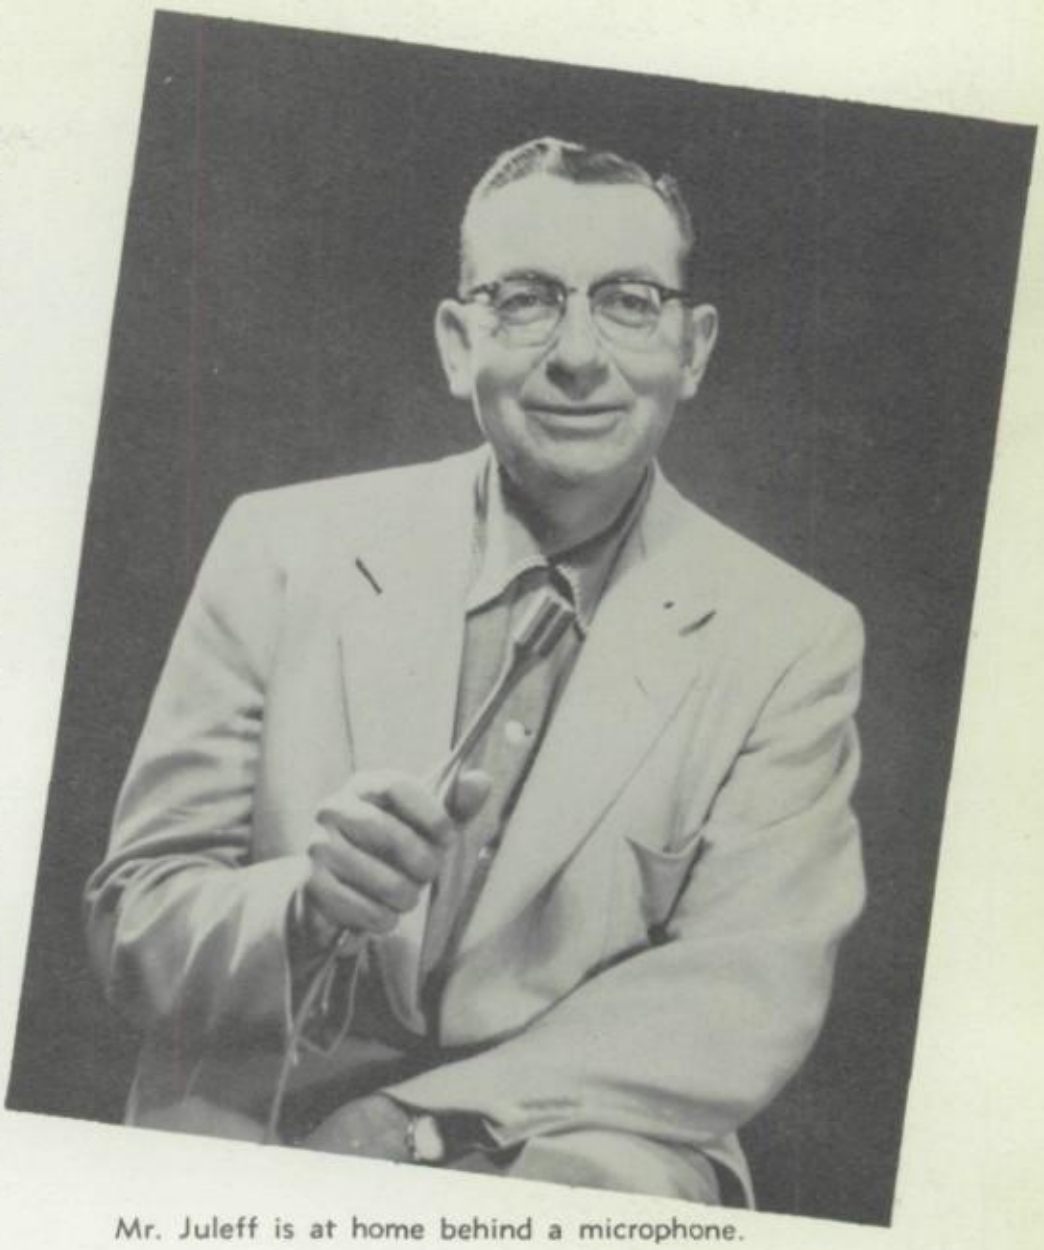
Dedication

Frank C. Juleff — through the years you have proven to be a friend to all, especially the Senior class. You have always been glad to go over themes written for other classes and other teachers, and to enlighten us on English classes in college. Your psychology classes and your Junior English class will remember you for having made them study—and are grateful for the extra time allowed when it was not possible to turn in an assignment when it was due.

In extra-curricular activities you have been responsible for the Radio-TV class and a TV program twice a month, along with weekly radio program. Also you have been sponsor at the school dances.

Mr. Juleff you have been a person to whom one could go with problems and be assured they would be kept confidential.

Therefore we are proud to dedicate the 1958 Superstition to you—Frank C. Juleff.



Mr. Juleff is at home behind a microphone.

Guiding Hand

Probably the most important line is the administration, for this line connects with all the others and, if a successfully co-operative one, tends to the bettering of schools.

The administration, which includes the school board, the principal and all the faculty, guides the students in creating the many lines for the school year, striving to improve the learning standards.

But many of the teachers have more to do than just instruct. They sponsor the clubs and keep those lines united to form better organizations.

One of the administration lines is the boys' and girls' counselors, who have gained the respect and friendship of the students. Many times they bring relief with their understanding of teenagers.

Yes, a line can be viewed as the people constantly working to make education more enjoyable. A line to you may be.

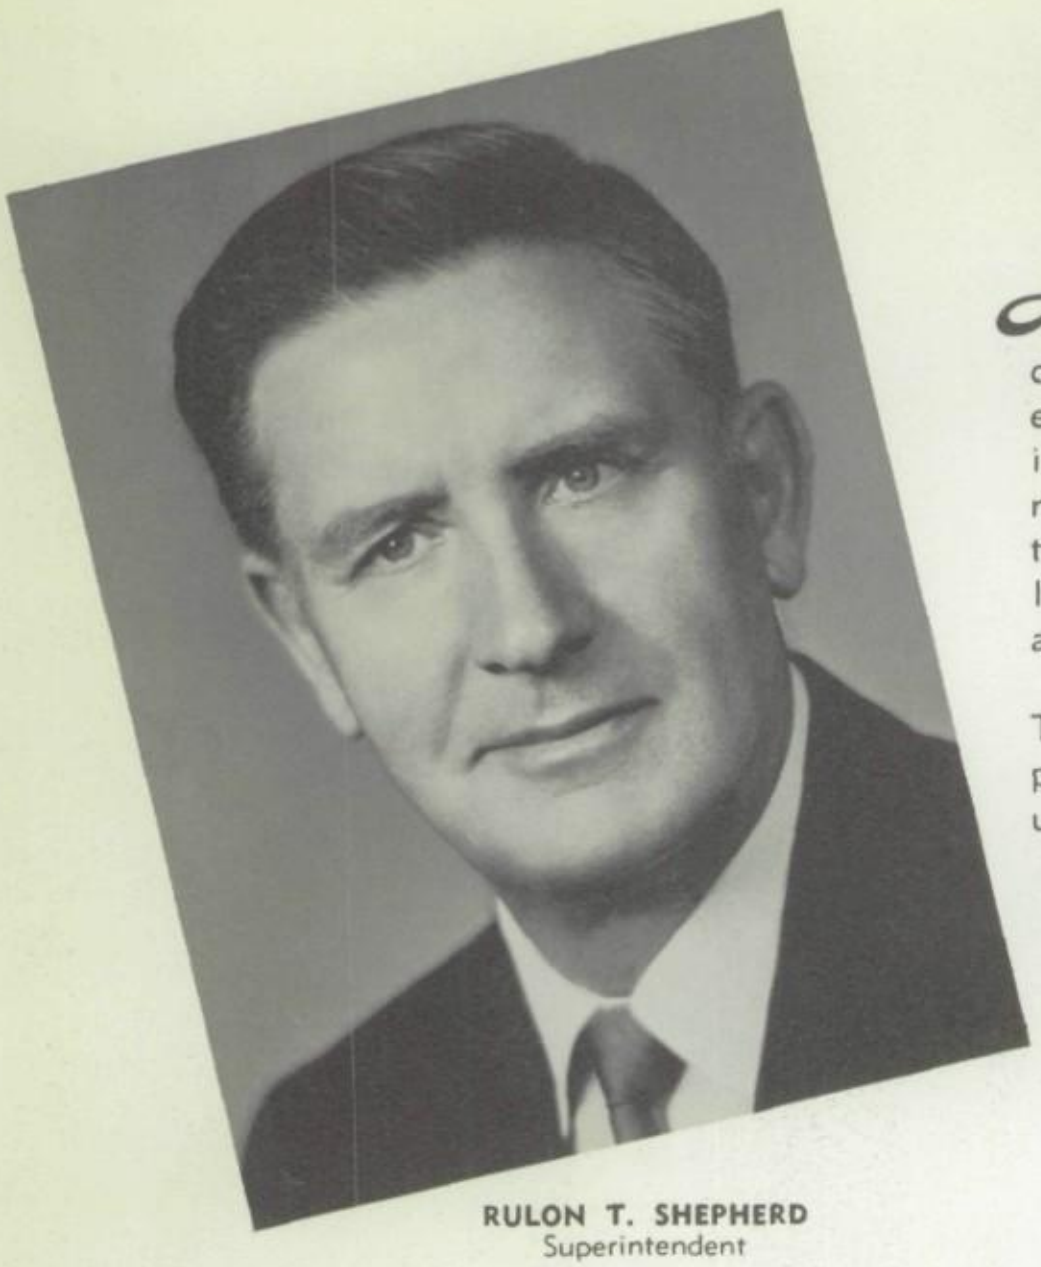
The Officials



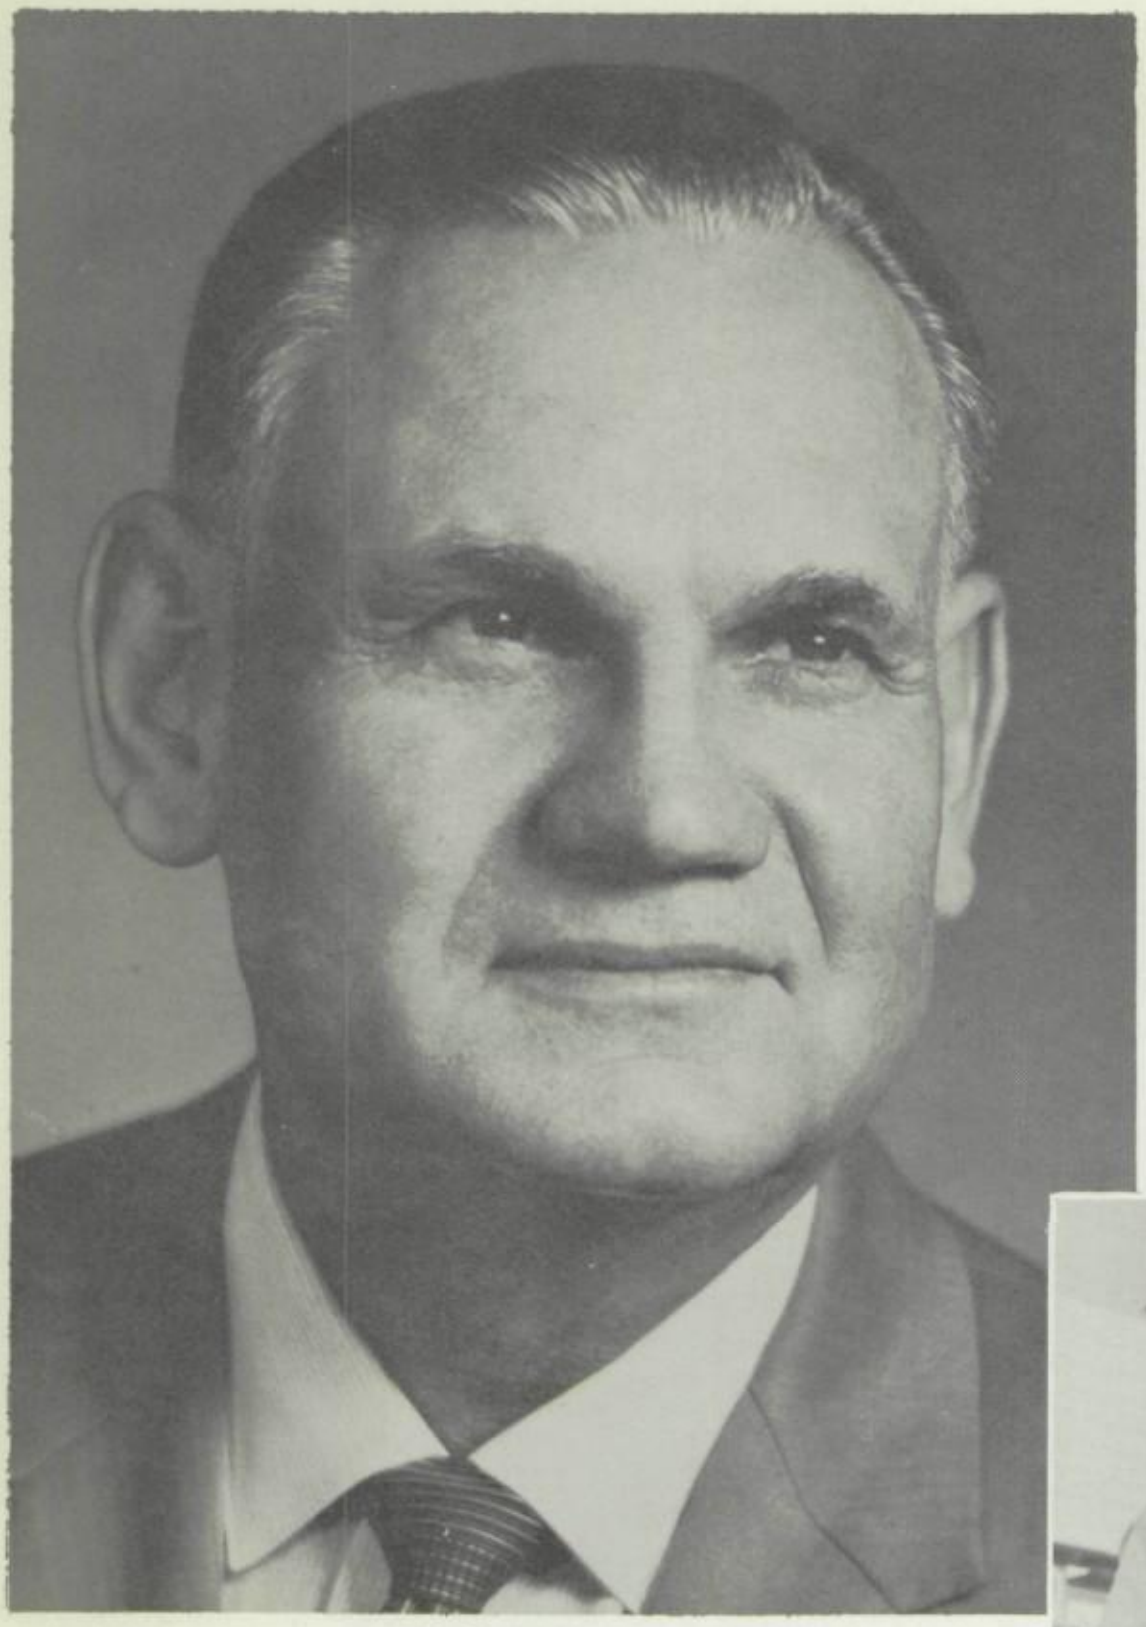
RULON T. SHEPHERD
Superintendent

As we, the students of Mesa High, look toward the future, we see Rulon T. Shepherd, Superintendent of Public Schools, also looking ahead. Because of the ever increasing enrollment in the Mesa Schools, there is always a demand for room to expand. This is one of many jobs which Mr. Shepherd has charge of. One of the plans that is being developed under Mr. Shepherd's leadership is the expansion of Mesa High by the acquisition of the Lincoln School next fall.

The five man School Board, which represents the public, backs Mr. Shepherd in his various duties. It is up to them to maintain good schools for us to attend.

MESA SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS: Otto Shill, Keith O. Lassen, J. J. Taylor, Walter W. Merrill, Dwight Patterson.

Superintendent Rulon T. Shepherd, Mrs. Helen Moffat and Principal Elias Brimhall inspect the Lincoln School that will become Mesa High School's English building next year.

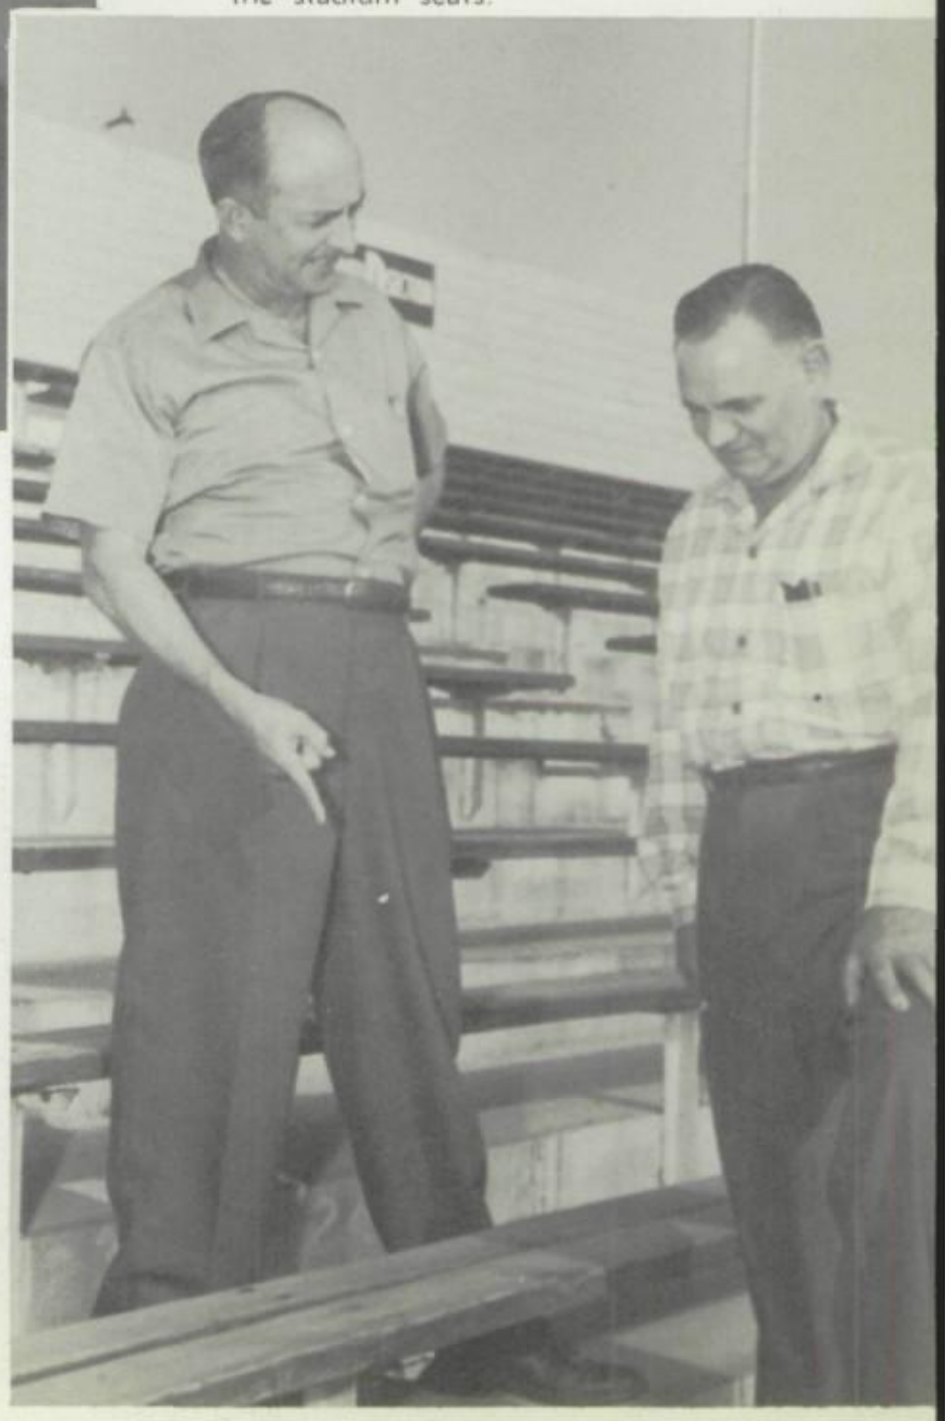


ELIAS R. BRIMHALL
Principal

Top Authority

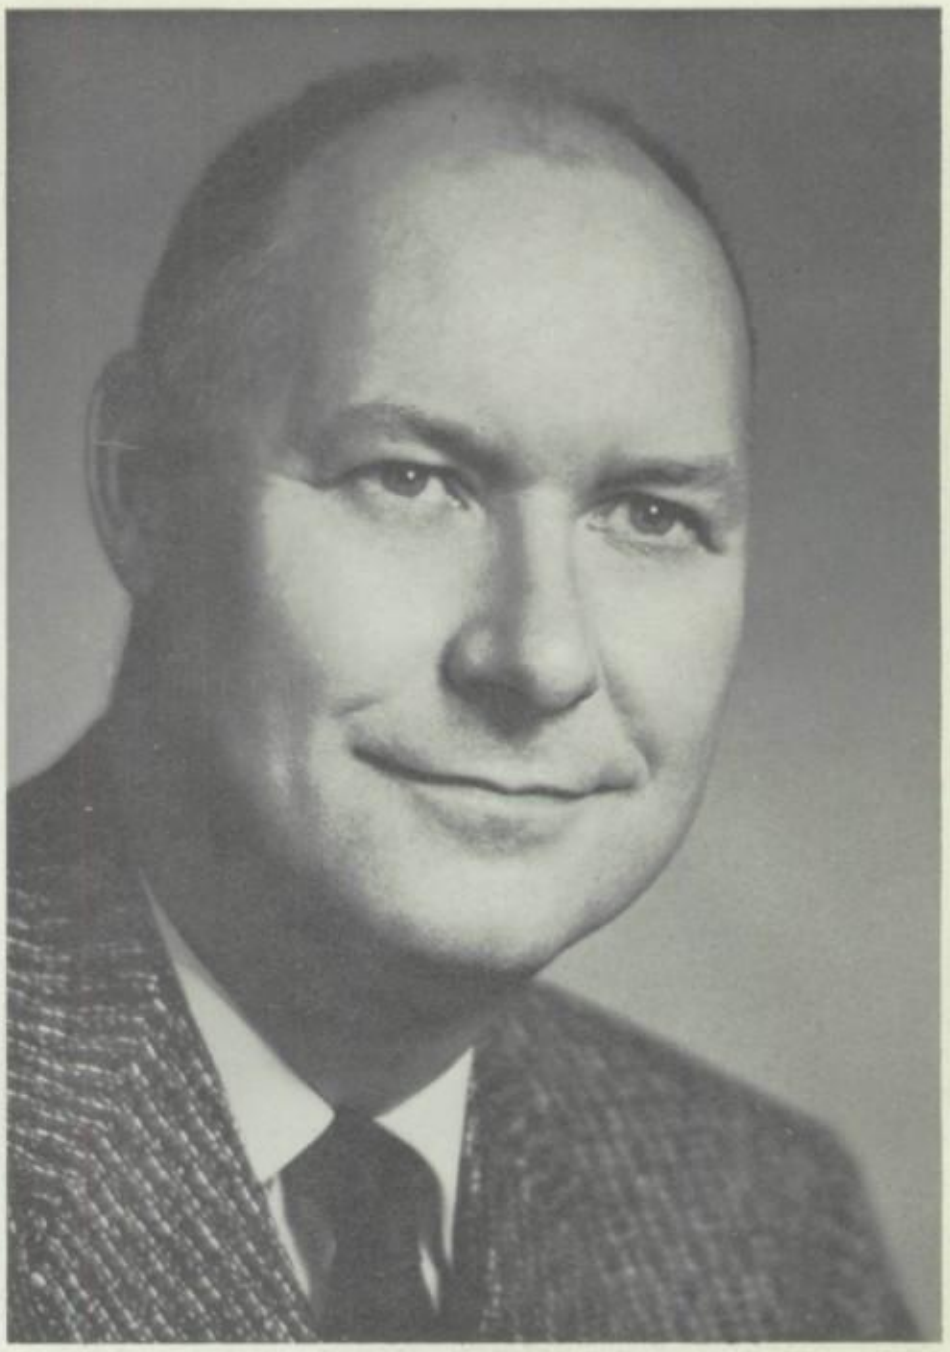
Elias Brimhall took the responsibilities and burdens concerned with being our school principal for the first time this year. But with his experience, sense of humor, and leadership ability, he has gained the respect and confidence of every student and faculty member at Mesa High. Previous to this assignment, he was principal of the Junior High School for five years.

Mr. Brimhall consults with Jack Cummard about the stadium seats.



Enforces Rules

Assistant principal, Gavin C. Humphrey, is Mr. Brimhall's right-hand man and director of the attendance department. Some of the main functions he has charge of are graduation, assemblies, school traffic patrol and class parties. He taught freshman social studies and American problems before he took this job four years ago.



GAVIN C. HUMPHREY
Assistant Principal

Mr. Humphrey relaxes with some of the class sponsors at the senior dance.

Always Handy

Our counselors not only help solve many of ou problems, but also sponsor clubs and help wit many school activities. Through her warm personality Katherine Brenner, in her fourth year as girls' coun selor, has gained the love and respect of every Mes High student. Last year's Superstition was dedicate to Carl Heath, boys' counselor. He serves as Basketba coach and devotes much of his time to Boys' Leagu and Key Club. Mason Cottam and Elwood Glazier, als serve as counselors. Mr. Cottam teaches one America history and two American problems classes. Mr. Glazie has an English, a speech and an American history class

In charge of excuses, whether they be an A or D, is Mrs. Jaimes, who sees that attendance slips are gathered.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Mortensen take care of grades and records, are in charge of college transcripts, and admitting new students.

CAFETERIA WORKERS: Marie Whited, Larrane Phelps, Edith Jackson, Pauline Owens, Hortense Willis, Thora Hamblin, Gladys Randall, Cafeteria Manager, Paul Canfield, Ethel Betterton, Fostena Ceross, Patty Rinehart, Lois Heslop, Irene Trimble.

Elizabeth E. Matson
school nurse

They Serve Us

Mesa High's new school nurse, Elizabeth E. Matson is always ready to be of assistance to any student who is ill. She is stationed at the girls' gym and comes here several times a week. She assists in giving X-rays, polio shots and various other medical aid to students in need of them. This woman in white has served well and is an asset to the school and community besides being a good friend to all around her.

The cafeteria staff serves lunch to the Mesa High student body every weekday during the school year. It also serves at the Student Council meetings each Tuesday and gives the Lincoln and Webster elementary pupils service at lunch. The staff is always ready to help out and provide nourishing and appetizing food to all who eat in the cafeteria. Always striving to please the customers and to keep the line moving rapidly, the staff this year has done an excellant job.

We Three

Students form another important line—especially at Mesa High, where a powerful student government reigns.

What lines the students build determine how well the school stands. Some years are better than others, depending upon the accomplishments achieved by the students.

Students make the classes to be taught. There they have the responsibility of increasing their knowledge. A line may be a desk. The good student sits and listens attetively to the lessons. This is the student that learns the most and is most likely to succeed.

The poor student sits and disturbs the pupils surrounding him. He causes disaster to himself and to those he distracts.

A line can be the student body as a group; it can be the student council that leads the others. Some may see three different lines representing Figen Yakar, Mesa High's first foreign exchange student, comes from Istanbul, Turkey.

Here she is shown as she registered with Mrs. Stewart, was greeted by Principal Elias Brimhall, met her American family, the Crocketts, and members of the exchange student committee, and was shown around the school by Student Body President Gary Gooch.

MHS Executives

After a lot of colorful campaigning, we elected Gary, Carolyn and Ella Mae as our Student Officers. We are really grateful to them for helping to make this year a successful one.

Gary's duties consist of acting as head of the Student Council and taking charge of the assemblies. We will always remember his famous last words, "You are now excused to your first period class." He also represents our school in district and state conventions. Carolyn, with her sunny smile, helps in every way possible and takes over for him when it is necessary. She takes care of the student bulletin board, too. Although she is small, Ella Mae does a lot of work. She takes care of correspondence witth other schools, takes notes in Student Council meetings and does the secretarial work for the Student Body.

Student Leaders Carry On

Student Council, which is composed of sixteen members, has worked very hard this year to make Mesa High a better school.

They are always willing to listen to our complaints and even occasionally to our compliments, which are often brought up at one of their weekly meetings.

The council holds a state convention every year. This year West High was the setting of the convention Here, students from all over the state came to discuss their ideas and problems.

The Council deserves a note of thanks from all of us for the outstanding work they have done towards pro moting school spirit and making Mesa High a bette school for us. They are in charge of all the assemblies and sponsor the Hello Party.

A Brief Glance At Masculine View

Boys' League is a group that has won both the admiration and gratitude of students and teachers for their excellent contributions to school life. The most difficult project undertaken by the Council is the traditional Christmas Formal, which is held December 20. The purpose of the Boys' League is to help the individual adapt himself to his surroundings, to develop a social and friendly relationship among the students and to afford opportunity for training and leadership.

In Contrast With The Feminine Side

Girls' League is an organization of which every girl of Mesa High is a member. The members are represented by twelve hard working girls who make up the Council.

They sponsor several activities during the year including the All Girls' party, the theme of which was "Famous Characters From the Beginning of Time." They put on the Girls' League assembly, Twirp Week and the annual Co-ed.

Facing Future

On graduation night when the music of "Pomp and Circumstance" floats across the field, we receive our long awaited diplomas.

As sophomores, we were excited when our class placed second in the Gah-Tso Rally; as juniors we won the Gah-Tso Cup and were looking forward to taking our places as "energetic seniors." Now in our last year we will remember Senior Days when we visited the University at Tucson and Arizona State at Tempe.

The future and what it holds for us will be ever present in our minds as we solemnly sing together for the last time our beloved song "Carry On."

Spirited Seniors

We're the class that's really great, we're the class of "58". So goes the senior class yell, as we lead the assembly spirit.

No matter if it's the Gah-Tso Rally or a trip, the seniors lead the rest of the school in sportsmanship, and scholarship.

Regardless of whether an activity calls for dinner jackets or levis and boots, we seniors come through.

"Coyote Safari" was the theme of the senior skit, which won first place in the Gah-Tso Rally.

One More Leap

For a year now, we have been the proud junior class of Mesa High. Through the years to come, we can look back and truly say it was a swell year. Remember the fun we had at the Junior-Senior Prom which we sponsored for the out-going seniors? The constant struggle for passing grades in American History? A lot of enthusiasm went into our victory in the yearbook sales. But all in all, we have had our work and fun and now move on to our last year of high school. We will soon be seniors and the proud leaders of Mesa High, with traditions and school spirit to be upheld.

Innocent Year

MIKE DANA
President

As sophomores, we have become acquainted with the many traditions of Mesa High, realizing we are a living part of them. The novelty of class yells, pep assemblies, formals and parties has worn off—but the spirit is growing with each experience. We have learned to appreciate our student government and our freedom of action and self-expression. Now we look forward to future years at a school where we can compete, better ourselves and achieve as those before us have done.

Carefree Hours

Without the many clubs on the campus, Mesa High's long line of activities would be broken.

For the clubs—some honorary, some for service and others for activity—compose a very vital part in making the students' lives complete. They help improve each member's ability to associate with others, to Co-operate, and to exist better socially.

The three major honor societies weren't open to everyone but the other clubs provided much enjoyment for all. So a line can be an organization of any type. For example

Clubs and Organizations

Interests To Suit Many Students

The thirty clubs on campus add a great deal to the activities of the students. There are clubs to suit everyone.

Many clubs are composed of students who have common interests. The clubs of Mesa High offer an extensive club program for students of varied interests.

Among these clubs are two sponsored by the YMCA. Athletic groups are for those who excel in sports. Many clubs provide information about future vocations.

There are honor societies made up of students chosen for their scholastic ability and citizenship. Service clubs, organized to better the school and community, are devoted to projects with a beneficial goal in mind.

There is also a club at Mesa High that is centered especially on religion.

The clubs are made enjoyable for the students through their own interests.

Services Rendered With A Smile

Without the help of Mr. Feeney's audio-visual boys, the many movies and slides would not be shown, because these boys are trained to operate the projectors and other machines of audio-visual work.

The school press, under the supervision of Mr Portillo, prints the El Conejo, the school magazine, and most of the forms, schedules and booklet used in the offices and classes of Mesa High School.

Mickey Portillo gives Tim Cosgrove some pointers on the care of the ink rollers of the offset press.

Hard Workers

ANN HASTINGS

The fire drills and air raid tests were all scheduled to prepare everyone for any future emergencies. But who planned them? Who watched and clocked them? The Service Council, under the presidency of the service commissioner, strived to better the school and community with their safety projects.

They collaborated with the local fire department and civil defense bureau in helping the students to take care of themselves, should any tragedy occur.

The Finer Parts

Certainly Mesa High would not be complete without the fine arts. These make a line in themselves—a line which takes long hours of co-operative efforts to make good.

For perfection, the fine arts require many people working together with constant determination.

They need skillful people with imagination and desire to work; they serve as entertainment as well as education for all the students.

The people who rehearse tirelessly before appearing on the stage, the editors who thrill at their finished publications, the Rabbettes who practice precision and co-ordination until able to put on a good performance: they help create the line of fine arts.

However, the line of fine arts isn't entirely composed of these things. It also includes the band and orchestra, working to give outstanding concerts and assemblies. A line might be the beautiful harmony of the A Cappella choir; and it can be

This is your Superstition. It is the result of arduous labor on the part of Cathy Brimhall, her staff and G. T. Young, advisor.

Every effort has been made to make this yearbook the biggest and most beautiful in the history of Mesa High. Pictures were taken, identified and pasted, ads were sold and copy written.

This year's annual has seven division pages with colored drawings. Spot color will also be featured on 21 other pages.

The more than 80 members of the Superstition staff put in countless hours doing their individual duties. The result is something that will be treasured by the students of Mesa High for many years to come.

Extra ! Extra ! Read All About It!

The school newspaper, the Jackrabbit, is a bi-monthly publication. Although a lot of confusion and frenzied rushing around took place as the deadline approached, the students received their Jackrabbit every other Thursday of the school year. Printed by the Mesa Tribune and written by the journalism students, this four-page newspaper provided the students with information, news, and humor.

This year three special issues were published. The first issue contained a student instruction sheet, and came out the first week of school. The Christmas edition contained eight pages printed in red and green as well as the usual black. As usual, the last issue was a senior edition

Typing and pasting are the next steps to getting the Jackrabbit published. Mr. Young supervises as Dick Draper pastes up the stories. Norma Ricketts marks change in make-up and Nancy Hostetler, Cathy Brimhall, Rex Dernovich and Dolores Arriaga type the news.

Old editor Jack Ong assists Sharon Solomon in checking the type on the stone, after which another issue is "put to bed."

Counting out the right number of papers to go to each class is the next step in the life of The Jackrabbit. After being distributed to the students, copies are mailed to many other schools in Arizona and practically every state in the union.

Literary Staff

Working on the El Conejo, Mesa High's literary magazine, was an experience that was just as much fun as it was rewarding. Staff efforts resulted in two exceptionally good editions. Mrs. Ida Peirpont advised the staffs, with Sybil Rollins and Jacky Ong as semester editors. Samples of students' work were read, re-read, typed, illustrated and published by the staff members and the the printer Mickey Portillo. El Conejo sponsored contests for the best poem, the best story and the best essay to solicit material for the magazine.

Besides the regular routines, this year the Rabbettes used beach balls during two performances for a more spectacular show. A patriotic program with flags closed the football season. They performed at every football game, several basketball games, the State Fair, and local parades. The Rabbettes were especially thrilled when they were asked to appear in the National Geographic magazine.

Even though the girls were fewer in number than ever before, they always came through with the precision and sportmanship for which they are known. of course it would have been impossible without the time and effort which was put forth by the sponsors, leaders, and every individual Rabbette.

Top Tooters

Precise lines were a specialty of this year's Jackrabbit Band which was under the direction of Linwood Noble. Besides entertaining at football games in the fall, the band was kept busy working on their spring concert and assembly. Several individuals from the band played solos while others participated in state-wide activities.

The band used a cowboy style at the State Fair and the Phoenix Rodeo parade, but displayed a concert style at the 1958 graduation.

Melody Magic

The select 80 voice A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Lyneer Smith, had one of its most successful seasons. Performing at the traditional Christmas Vesper Service, the Choir had an audience filling the auditorium to overflowing. In another highlight of their year, the choir sang at the Easter Sunrise Service and the Easter Vesper.

Singing in several assemblies, local churches, and organizations, the choir was enjoyed by countless townspeople and winter visitors. Rounding out their year of success, A Cappella sang at graduation services. Representing Mesa High, eight members of the choir were elected to the All-State Chorus.

Additional A Cappella activities of the year included the purchasing of white dinner jackets to wear in performances and to rent out to the students as a many raising project.

"The Heiress" Scores Great Hit

Tense drama encompassed the plot of "The Heiress", first all-school play of the 1957-'58 season. Under the direction of Jack Davis, the play was very convincingly enacted.

"The Heiress" is about a young woman (Catherine Sloper) who inherits a great amount of money. A bachelor (Morris Townsend) learns this, and is dazzled by the sum. He proposes to her, she accepts, and they plan a night elopement.

When the fiance finds out that Catherine is disinhe ited because of her father's disapproval of her romance he jilts her.

Heartbroken, Catherine confines herself to weavin and refuses Townsend when he finally comes back t her.

Father Keeps Audience In Stitches

"It was hilarious" was the opinion of all the audience who saw "Life With Father", the second all-school play under the direction of Jack Davis on January 29 and 30. The three-act comedy was about a family during the early 1900's. Father was portrayed by Rodney Whiting who is new at Mesa High this year. Mother, played by Shari Farney, was the female lead of the play. It was put on professionally and very successfully. Two of the funniest parts in the play were the dialogue about the baptism of the father, and the love scene between Lawrence and Mary Skinner. As a whole it was one of the plays that Mesa High will remember for a long time.

Cousin Cora and Mary return from shopping with the help of the cook, Margaret, while the doctors look on.

THE CAST — Seated: Father: Rodney Whiting, Mother: Shari Farney. Standing: Leanne Burroughs, Marietta Burgi, Vonna Berchardt, Elaine Le Sueur, Dennis Kelly, Carolyn Crabb, Beulah Denham, Dale Anderson, Ben Hofer, John Tucker, John Ehrke, Dale Hall, Carolyn Decker, Kenneth Strecker.

Thespians Display Top Tunes

This year not two, but three all-school plays were presented. Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians" was the third one, presented for the public April 2 and 3. "Ten Little Indians" is a very suspenseful murder mystery centered around a decorative mantle display of ten carved Indian figures. One by one they are broken by the killer; one by one the guests on an abandoned island die.

Another project of the drama department was Masque and Dagger's annual "Top Ten Tunes" assembly. The top song on the "extensive survey" this year was "Wyatt Earp."

Mother hen tries desperately to put her "ugly duckling" baby chick back into its egg in "April Love".

Dennis Kelly, portraying Wyatt Earp, receives some real Western bows from other cowboys.

"26 Miles to Catalina" was well chaperoned for this young couple.

"Wake Up, Little Susie" was the theme of these two little bears when they overslept.

Talented Teens

Assemblies play a very important role in the life of Mesa High. Most of the assemblies are opened and dismissed by the student body president who announces the opening prayer and prelude.

All assemblies are under the direction of the assembly committee and the fine arts commissioner. Each class presents its own assembly and is given Gah-Tso points for the quality of its assembly.

Special speakers add to the variety of the assemblies. Special assemblies such as the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Farewell assemblies are worked up with special care to be presented with that professional touch. Key Club presented a very interesting educational film for one assembly and Masque and Dagger presented the "Top Ten" assembly.

Many hours of hard work and enjoyment make up these enjoyable assemblies.

Mesa's male quartet was always a popular number in assemblies.

Three Mesa Alumni — Chas. Harrel, Pat Fish, Frank Goodman— present musical number in the Alumni Assembly.

How would a group of Christmas toys look if they came to life. Here a number of the dance students interpret that idea in the Christma assembly.

It is always fun to see teachers display their talents. Here a number of teachers form a combo in the faculty assembly.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY

1. Juniors visit Hawaii in "Cupid's Capers" for Junior Assembly.
2. English maids dance as Cupid stops in England.
3. "Down in Bermuda" as Cupid passes by.
4. Juniors stomp it up at a typical drive-in.

SOPHOMORE ASSEMBLY

1. Sophies go modern, even in dancing, at the Sophomore Assembly.
2. Mary Livingston gives out with "Long, Lonely Nights."
3. Sophomore combo with Rosemary McDowell, Chuck Shumway, Virginia Anderson, Bill Sirrine, and Jeff Noble play at Club 60.
4. Club 60 features Linda Cook.

Team Line Up

Cheering at all the different games and supporting the various teams,the students backed a successful sports year.

The line of sports included everyone, for moral support proved to be a great factor in victories. The cheerleaders and all those who yelled for the players were important, and they showed good sportsmanship.

It is evident that sports are a long line in high school life. It can be a football or a football game. It can be popcorn or pompons.

Maybe a line to you is .

GRIDIRON CAPERS

Behind the leadership of Edgar (Mutt) Ford, the 1957 Mesa High Jackrabbits placed third in the tough AA conference and had an 8 win, 2 loss season record. Even so, the Hares placed more men on the AA all-state team than any other school. Richard Molina, Lynn Mulleneaux, Wayne Hunsaker, and Bill Steverson were the Jacks which received this honor. Mesa also had the AA scoring champion in Molina who led all comers with 115 points. Although losing 26 men through graduation, the Hares will be strong contenders next year with 15 juniors returning, and a fine group of underclassmen coming up from the junior varsity and the rainbow squads. Other coaches who contributed their talents to the squad were Carl Heath, defense; Dave Gates, line; and Reed Peterson, back.

WEST BREAKS JINX

Mesa 43 — Porterville, California 19. The opening game saw the Jackrabbits show their great offensive power. Richard Molina started off his successful season by scoring three touchdowns. Mesa still hasn't lost to a California team.

Mesa 7 — Glendale 6. The Jackrabbits squeaked out a close one-point win as both teams played sloppy football. The game was marked by fumbles and penalties. Rudy Owens scampered 30 yards in the first half for the score. Owens then kicked the important extra point for victory

Mesa 7 — West High 19. The Thunderbirds after breaking a six-year jinx in downing the Jackrabbits October 4 went on to win the class AA crown this year. The T-birds completely outplayed the hard fighting, but flu weakened Jackrabbits.

LOSE TO BADGERS

Mesa 25 — Yuma 7. Once again the Rabbits wer sparked by Richard Molina who scored four touchdown to increase his scoring in AA play. The Mesa defens played a great game and held the Crims in their ow territory most of the game.

Mesa 13 — Tucson 14. The Mesa Jackrabbits suffered their once-in-a-season hard luck game when they me the Badgers on October 18. Tucson coupled the runnin of Art Acosta and the fumbles of the Hares to narrow ly squeeze past a desperate Mesa team for a victory.

Mesa 42 — Amphitheater 13. Homecoming came t a successful end as the Rabbits went wild in defeatin the Panthers of Tucson. Robert Ray led the scorin with three touchdowns. Eugene Dightman played great game as his blocks set up a couple of touchdowns

THREE IN A ROW

Mesa 27 — Phoenix Union 12. The Jackrabbits overran the heavy line of the Coyotes to ride to an easy victory. The Coyotes only scores came on long passes, their only offensive threat in the game.

Mesa 51 — Camelback 24. The Jackrabbit team opened up an all out offense in crushing the Spartans November 7. The Hares scored five touchdowns on passes alone in riding to an easy victory over the Phoenicians.

Mesa 40 — North Phoenix 20. Again the Rabbits were led by a Senior Richard Molina as he scored five touchdowns in a high scoring game for both teams. North scored on the two pass plays that broke the game wide open and made the men of Mesa fight even harder for their victory.

JV-RAINBOWS, GOOD MATERIAL

In his first year as J. V. coach, Thomas Futch led the 1957 Mesa High Bunnies to a season record of 6 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. Singled out for their fine defensive work were Frank Zuniga and Danny Bloomer. The leaders in the offensive department were Eddie Giles, Don Holley, Ronnie Peterson and Ronnie Eaves.

Coached by two capable mentors, Webie Koski and Robert Hudson, this year's Rainbow squad built up an admirable 8-2 record. Many of the members of the team, including Martin Neilson, Lee Peterson, Bob Duffel, and Arvis Hicks, are fine prospects for the varsity contingent next year.

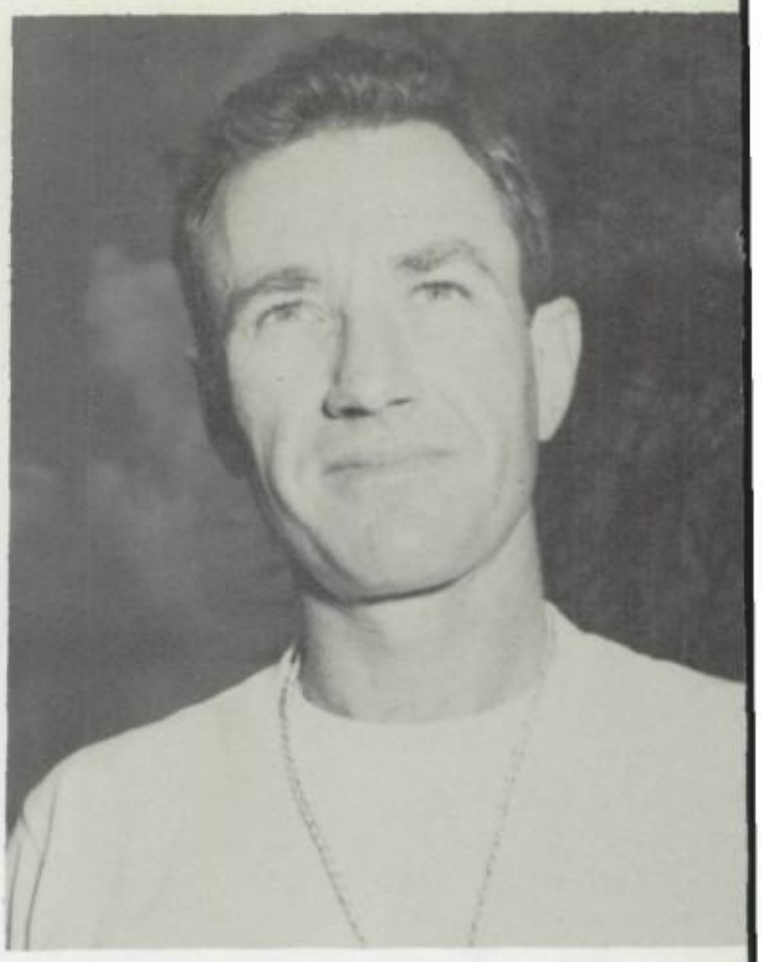
Flashy Quintet

Coach Carl Heath led the 1958 edition of the Mesa High Basketball team to a 9 win, 10 lost season. The season saw the Jackrabbits look like a championship team one game and the next like a cellar club. They finished in a third place tie with Camelback with a 6-6 won-lost record in the Class AA Central Conferences. Although they didn't place a player on the all state team, they had two Honorable mentions in Wayne Hunsaker and Rex Dernovich. Next year the Hares should be in good shape as there will be six returning lettermen along with a fine group of Jayvees.



CARL HEATH
Head Coach

The first game of the year found the Jackrabbits cold and they were defeated by the Camelback Spartans 51-15. In their second meeting the Hares bounced back to take the Humps 48-30.

Finding the basket was still a problem to the Jackrabbits and they suffered their second loss, by the score 29-25, to the Pueblo Warriors.

The Jacks finally got going and romped their way to a 63-42 victory over the Amphitheater Panthers.

During the Christmas holidays the Jacks entered th Valley Christmas Tournament. In the opening gam they lost to the North High Mustangs 56-45. Comin back in the consolation bracket they defeated th Phoenix Indian School Braves 74-56, but lost to th Chandler Wolves 55-47.

Mesa downed the West High T'Birds in their first meeting 58-55, but were run over by the Birds in the return game 59-38.

Phoenix Union continued their mastery of the Hares and defeated them twice this year 54-41 and 61-41.

Making a habit of splitting their two games with Class AA North competition the Hares won the first game from the Scottsdale Beavers 54-42 but lost the second one 47-39.

North and Mesa split in the regular season with the Hares winning the first game 54-47 and the Mustangs the second 70-53.

Mesa proved their supremacy over the South Mountain Rebels as they took two victories from them 55-46 and 60-58.

The Jacks made the long trip to Tucson to meet the Badgers and were defeated 50-39.

The Catalina Trojans, supposedly the top team in the state, found the Hares too tough and dropped a 76-64.

Packing plenty of offensive punch, this year's junior varsity cagers rang up a deserving 14-4 record. Thomas Futch, fresh out of college basketball, groomed a crop of promising boys into a group to contend with. Phil Ortega, a tall and lanky junior, proved to be the greatest asset to the team by leading them in both rebounding and scoring.

One star shown brightly in an otherwise drab wrestling season. The star: Edward Figueroa, who compiled an excellent 13-2 individual record along with the state 95-pound mat title to lead Webby Koski's grunt and groan crew to a 3-13 campaign record.

Despite the losing year, the team still placed eighth in the state tournament in Phoenix, which showed that they have plenty of promise. Koski, in his first year as mentor, has loads of material to work with for next year's squad.

Golfers Galore

With only Harold Van Hook back from last year's powerful squad, Coach Arland Branch has had a rebuilding job this season. However, his inexperienced crew has given a good account of itself and has shown steady improvement with each match.

The Rabbit golfers posted early season wins over Central, Phoenix Union, and Wickenburg; while losing to the strong West and Tucson squads.

Vanhook tees off on the 10th tee of the beautiful Mesa Country Club course. Campbell, Benesch and Marcy await their turns.

GIRLS VARSITY — Kneeling: Nancy Cooley, Helaine Willison. Standing: Helen Asher, Brenda Tibshraney, Peggy Cramer, Claudia Buffington, Norma Ricketts and Jackie Hering.

This was the second year for Mesa High's girls' golf class started last year by Mrs. Claudia Buffington. It grew from a class of ten seniors and juniors.

The four girls returning from last year are Helaine Wilson, Peggy Cramer, Norma Ricketts, and Brenda Tibshraeny. New girls this year are Jacqueline Heying, Nancy Cooley, Helen Asher, Barbara Grant, Nanci Bunde, and Joann Cluff.

Four of them participated in the Arizona State College Golf Playday March 28 at Encanto Park. The girls played against Camelback twice. They were defeated 4-1 in the first encounter with only Brenda Tibshraeny defeating her opponent. In the return match at the Mesa Country Club they won two out of the five matches.

The girls are getting their clubs ready to start playing

Helaine and Helen are cleaning the golf balls

Brenda is raking up her foot marks from the sand trap, while Jackie and Helaine are putting on the green.

Racquet Squad

Hard work, experience, and good coaching paid off for this year's varsity tennis squad as they built up an admirable season's record.

West Phoenix High again proved to be the thorn in the Jack's side as the T-Birds whipped coach Robert Hudson's team in both encounters. Despite the losses to the Phoenix school, however, the well conditioned Rabbits still placed high in the class AA ranks.

Although four seniors will be lost through graduation, next year's netters appear to have plenty of spunk.

BARBARA DAVIS
Coach

Although Miss Barbara Davis and Company didn't fare too well this season, the green squad could blossom into a future Class AA threat. Lack of experienced netters caused most of the defeats that the girls sufferd this year.

With only three varsity members leaving the team, Marlowe Fryxell, Carol Joyce White and Pam Humphrey, the rest of the squad will have at least one year to iron out their stroking flaws and to gain valuable experience, which is essential for a winning team.

REED PETERSON
Coach

A well balanced dual-meet squad with few outstanding performers was the way Coach Reed Peterson described the 1958 track squad at the beginning of the season.

With only one man—Harold Sutton—back who placed in the state meet last season and last year's decathlon winner—Wayne Hunsaker—Coach Peterson has had a rebuilding job this year.

The Hares opened their season by winning a three-way meet with Carl Hayden and Tempe — Mesa 71, Tempe 59, and Carl Hayden 6. As expected, Sutton lead the Rabbits in point getting by taking four first places.

Then in the Glendale Invitational against the top performers from all over the state, the best the rabbits could do was three third places.

Down The Lane

Under the experienced hand of Coach David Gates, this year's junior varsity thinclads should turn out to be a valuable asset in the development of a rugged varsity squad. As in the past, most of our school's top thinlies usually gain experience and coordination dur- their earlier years as a member of the JV's. This season's group has many fine athletes that could easily bring track laurels to future Rabbit squads.

Batter Up!

Bolstered by one of the finest pitchers in the Class AA league—Phil Ortega, and three other players, who were starters on last year's championship team, the Mesa Rabbit nine got off to a fine start this season.

After several rained out games, the Hares opened their season by beating South Mountain 3-2 with Lugo and Ortega doing the chucking.

The Rabbits won another close one from Phoenix Union 3-1, with Ortega holding the opposing batsmen to two hits.

Then Coach Reid's boys dumped West from the undefeated ranks by beating the Thunderbirds 5-1 behind the three-hit pitching of Ortega. Dightman was the leading hitter.

On March 28 Ortega and Crittendon of North High put on a pitching duel for 14 innings when the game was called because of darkness with the score 2-2. Ortega allowed only two hits, Crittendon gave up eight.

Mesa High's Jayvee team, under the direction of the new head coach, Coach Tom Futch, had a very inspiring year. Of course with the games won, they also had some loses, but they didn't let that discourage them. When a game was lost the team tried more than ever to win the next one.

The mid-season standing for the team was two wins, one loss, and one tie.

Boys Gymnastics

Something new has been added to the Mesa High boys physical education program this year—gymnastics.

With new gym equipment to work with the boys have taken to these new activities with a will and are making an excellent showing on the bars, horses, and trampoline.

Perfect form on the parallel bar.

It takes muscle to reach the top of the rope.

Ladies Take-Over Sports Program

The girls physical education program is a diversified one designed to meet the interests and the needs of every girl.

Individual sports include archery, badminton, croquet, deck tennis, horseshoes, lawn bowling, shuffleboard, and table tennis. Team sports are basketball, hockey, softball, soccer, and volleyball.

An extensive dance program including character, folk, modern, modern jazz, novelty, round, social, square, and tap dances develops poise and grace as well as an appreciation of this popular art.

Party and recreational games; tennis; golf; and marching, dancing, baton twirling, and rope spinning that are part of the Rabbette training round out the activities of the department.

Miss Marjorie Entz, Mrs. Clauda Buffington, Mrs. Irene Kemp, and Miss Barbara Davis handle the instruction of these activities.

High Society

Lines can be people, lines can be dance floors; put them together in a suitable position and a long line of dances is created.

And a long line is true at Mesa High, where there are dances after the ball games, dances at class parties, informal and formals.

Besides them, there were the all-campus party, the hello hop, and the special party for new pupils.

Everyone enjoyed the barn dances, twirp dance, hi-fi dances, the Co-Ed and all the others. Without them life would have been awfully dull for the students.

Maybe a line is the hay at the western parties, or the socks at the sock hop. Maybe a line is

Seniors Honored

The Junior-Senior Prom held for the second consecutive year, in the beautiful Arizona State College, Student Union Building, was perhaps the best remembered dance of the year.

The large spacious ballroom decorated with Japanese paintings, beautiful glittering butterflies, Japanese lanterns, and lettering—"Sayonara"—on the curtain done in oriental style gave the effect of the Far East.

To set the mood, Walt Anthony's band played the dance, "Sayonara" while Stewart Glazier sang it.

Others on the floor show were Mickey Morrison and Earlene Campbell singing, "Show Me."

A lively tune and swirling skirts.

Gals Treat Guys

Deep Purple lights softly flooded the floors of th girls gym as dancers had a big time at the Girl League-sponsored Co-Ed on Valentine's Day. Virgini McLaws' orchestra played for the girl-treat-boy affai

The Co-Ed brought an end to Twirp Week, and was on of the most anticipated formals of the season. Colorfu fountains and trees dotted the floors, and added a Dee Purple atmosphere to the dance.

FORMAL FIESTA

Spirits were gay and hearts were light as students celebrated Christmas vacation at the Boys League's annual Christmas Formal.

"La Fiesta de Navidad" was carried out musically by the Latin Sextet. Numbers ranged from smooth waltzes to catchy jitterbugs and rythymic mambos and sambas.

Under bright streamers decked with golden bulbs and glittering strips of tinsels, students danced till eleven thirty, when the evening was climaxed with the breaking of the pinata filled with candies for everyone.

This gala event was held in the boys gymnasium on the first evening before Christmas vacation, December 21, and created a friendly, brotherly feeling for the holidays.

Students Enjoy Numerous Dances

Dances of all kinds for various occasions have been the rule at Mesa High School this year. Club sponsored after-game dances, class party dances, Western dances, and sock dances have kept the jive-conscious students busy almost every Friday evening.

Most of these dances are given to raise funds for the sponsoring group or for some school project, such as the foreign exchange program.

Superstition Dance Honors Annual

One of the most looked forward to semi-formal dances of the year is the Superstition Ball. Sponsored by the publications department and Quill and Scroll in honor of the yearbook, the dance is highlighted by the crowning of the Superstition Queen.

This year the ball was held after the Mesa-Camelback football game on Thursday, November 7, in the boys gymnasium. The dance followed the annual Superstition assembly during which the queen and her attendants were introduced.

Busy As Bees

School life makes a beautiful line which all students want to follow. On this line stand all the different kings and queens who add a bit of beauty and supremacy to Mesa High's history pages.

"Las Conejitas" marched a straight and precise line to entertain delighted audiences. They spiced the line with unique dance steps.

The cheerleaders blazed the trail for the peppier end of school life.

Lines can form a crown on the heads of royalty or the tails affixed to the Bunnies' costume.

It can be the shadows cast onto the floor with each cheerleader's ending leap; or it may be the various conventions students attend.

Bouncing Bunnies

Newly organized this year are Mesa High's Las Conejitas. These twelve girls, chosen on their outstanding dancing ability, have rapidly become an important part of Mesa High.

Performing in assemblies, at football, basketball, and baseball games, on television, and at the county fair, these girls have shown originality, not only in their dancing but in their pert and lively costumes.

Because their organization is new to Mesa High the girls have had to work hard to build up the student body's interest in their activities.

The Intellects

Scholarship is important at Mesa High, although often not so spectacularly publized as some of the extra curricular activities.

Each year a number of top junior girls and boys are selected to attend Girls State and Boys State. On the Campuses of the University of Arizona and the Arizona State College at Flagstaff, the future leaders of the state schools learn and practice the principles of running a democratic community.

An annual event of vital importance to the scientifically minded students is the annual Science Fair. Here the individual students have a chance to display scientific projects they have worked on and constructed and for which they may receive many prizes and scholarships.

Extracurricular Activities

Many Extra-Curricular activities of this '57-58 school season filled in the remainder of the students spare time. All these activities helped make a better and more interesting school life.

Sophomores rack their brains to answer aptitude tests.

Friends greet each other as they register for the coming year.

Merry Christmas

Do you remember when we were in the 8th grade and Mrs. Lewis had us write a composition about what we wanted to be when we grew up? I wrote that I wanted to be a famous author and you wrote that you wanted to be a garbage man because you could get all the garbage you wanted for free. Well, I'm a famous author and you're a garbage man.

Merry Christmas
